CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Here Are New Driving Laws That Affect You

Although the 1967 Legislature enacted broad new laws affecting every motorist, most of them don't become operative this year.

For instance, the controversial implied consent law to crack down on drunken driving does not go into effect until July 1 of 1968.

After that, a person, when he buys his license, is presumed to have given his implied consent to taking a chemical test when arrested for drunk driving.

If he refuses, his license can be suspended for six months. The tests are of breath, blood, urine or saliva, but the blood test will be given only if the driver is unable to take the others.

After June 1, 1968, every Florida motor vehicle must pass a safety inspection every six months at a fee of $1.75 per check.

The routine inspection will cover brakes, lights, horn, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, directional signals and tires.

Counties have until January 1, 1968, to decide if they want to take over the inspection program in their area or leave it to private industry to do under state supervision.

If the vehicle won't meet the safety check, a driver has five days to correct the deficiencies after which a reinspection will be made without charge to the driver.

Beginning July 1, 1970, three years off, drivers must undergo a routine re-examination every four years for vision to see, hear, read and understand highway signs.

Also in July, 1970, all drivers licenses will be issued by the Public Safety Department, ending the issuance of licenses by county judges all over the state. And each license will have a color photograph of the licensee-holder.

As of September 1 of this year, minimum age for driving with a restricted license goes up from 14 to 15. And drivers under 16 must be accompanied by a licensed driver at least 21 years old rather than 18 as under present law.

After July 1, 1970, all drivers under 18 must pass an accredited driver's education course before getting an unrestricted license.

Effective October 1, motorists can turn right on red lights all over Florida—after coming to a dead stop—unless there is a sign specifically prohibiting such turns.

Day School Purchases Old Pahokee Hospital

The old Everglades Memorial Hospital on East Main Street in Pahokee has been sold to the Day School of the Glades for $68,000.00. This is the amount that the hospital district owes on the bonded indebtedness from the original amount that the hospital cost.

Plans call for a staff of six qualified teachers and the headmistress. The school will offer kindergarten classes for four and five-year old children. Regular work for grades one through six will be given, with all required subjects being taught. Grades seven through nine will be taught at the junior high school level. Other subjects will be taught to make the Day School of the Glades "an outstanding institution."

Present plans call for a science laboratory, teachers' lounge, sick room, lunch room and office space, in addition to the remodeling of various rooms into large classrooms. David Unwin, a local contractor, is in charge of the renovation. Much of the labor and materials will be donated.

At present, the enrollment of the 1967-68 school year is approximately 100 students, according to Mrs. Marian Hutton, who is in charge of registrations. Additional enrollments are anticipated after summer vacations are over.

Food From Oil To Bring Relief From Famine

Some relief from famine for the hungry nations of the world soon may be forthcoming as a result of scientific advances in manufacturing food from oil.

Food scientists already have discovered ways to produce nutritious powder to reinforce diets and have successfully produced edible and nutritious imitations of meat and cereals.

Scientists in a Pittsburgh laboratory of the Gulf Oil Corporation recently turned petroleum into cookies, soups and cereals.

Other advances along this line have been reported by Russian scientists, while a pilot plant of Standard Oil of New Jersey and Switzerland's Nestle Alimentana S. A. is refining oil into an almost tasteless white powder which could serve as a protein-rich dietary supplement for both people and animals.

The lack of protein is the most serious problem faced by the developing nations of the world. Nutrition experts have estimated that the world will need 17 million more tons of protein by 1980 and 40 million additional tons by the year 2000.

This lack of protein can be supplied, in the main by converting fuels to synthetic foods.

The most practical way to produce the millions of tons of proteins needed in the short time available to meet the most serious nutritional crisis the world has ever seen, seems to be through proteins from petroleum.

Leading research scientists tell us that foods derived from fuels do not resemble oil or gas.

During the processing, the oil and gas hydrocarbons actually are consumed by bacteria that, in turn, produce a yeast-like protein in much the same manner that yeast is produced for bread and beer.

This process is called biosynthesis or petroleum fermentation and produces cheap quantities of a bland but edible powder.

Scientists say the powder is rich in vitamins and contains more protein, pound for pound, than beefsteak.

The oil process is considered by many leading scientists as a promising new food source, because petroleum and gas hydrocarbons are abundant and expensive, even in many countries that now are critically short of food.

While veteran researchers in the field are cautiously optimistic and do not foresee food from fuel as a panacea for all of the world's hunger, they contend it could become a significant contributor to the World War on Hunger.

This is a very heartening sign, since a recent report by President Johnson's Science Advisory Com-

Small Car Tag Money Will Be Refunded

Tallahassee — Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., Comptroller of Florida, reported his office is processing 12,000 checks to be mailed to small car owners due license tag payment refunds.

These payments, varying from $2.70 to $8.10 to individual car owners, represent the first state refunds made following a State Supreme Court ruling on a 1963 automobile license fee statute.

Although Dickinson's office is currently preparing 12,000 warrants for mailing, there may be as many as 200,000 small car owners eligible for the court-order rebate.

Dickinson noted that in addition drawn, another 5,000 applications are now undergoing preliminary processing.

State laws require that these applications be filed with the Comptroller's Office before the state refunds can be disbursed.

Dickinson said the application forms are available at the offices of county tax collectors, or may be secured by writing directly to the County Finance Department of the Comptroller's Office, Carlton Building, 355A, Tallahassee.

The Comptroller's Office has been deluged by refund requests since August 1966, when Mrs. Mary Mahorne of Tallahassee filed suit on the grounds that the state's license tag law did not cover cars weighing less than 2,000 pounds. Supreme Court upheld the earlier.

In a ruling this month, the State ruling of a lower court: that refunds were in order.

mittee World Food Panel foresees a staggering world food crisis by the end of this century.

In India, the Institute of Petroleum is building two pilot plants to produce food from oil.

Scientists are convinced the cost of protein made from oil and natural gas will drop dramatically, as technology advances and commercial volumes are reached.

It is at least theoretically possible to convert natural gas to foodstuffs that will undersell competitive agricultural products, scientists contend.

Whatever the magnitude of the cost drop, oil men believe that petroleum-derived food at any reasonable price will be used widely.

Other proteins from farms and the sea won't be available in sufficient quantities to feed the world's billions in coming decades, they contend.

Retirement Fund Money Must Be Raised

Palm Beach County School Board has been informed that it must start immediately to find an additional $225,000, as employer's share in the school system's retirement fund. This money was formerly paid by the State.

Assistant Superintendent in Business Affairs William C. Whitten has told the County School Board that next year the $225,000 will increase next year and by the 1970-71 school year will have reached a total of approximately $2 million previously paid by the State authorities. This is an effect of a new law passed by the 1967 State Legislature.

Since the new State law has passed this responsibility to the county, the additional local money will have to come from the Palm Beach County property (millage) taxes, Whitten pointed out.

The Board is studying this and other associated problems as it faces its annual responsibilities of deciding how much money the county schools shall have and, therefore, how many mills to levy as the local county contribution. Final adoption of the school budget is expected July 31.

"After the hurricane, they brought our son clear down from Tennessee to help out."

You bet we did. That son was one of hundreds of Southern Bell specialists we brought in to make order out of chaos. Gathering task forces from all over is a Bell custom anytime disaster strikes.

Without men like him, it would take much too long to get everything back to normal. And he wouldn't have been tapped for the assignment if he hadn't been the best. No wonder his parents are proud.

Buy Bonds where you work.

It's miserable work, crawling through a rice paddy. And being shot at. This American does the job for freedom's sake. So do thousands of his buddies. Many of these brave men also support freedom with their dollars. A majority of our servicemen overseas are investing in U.S.

Savings Bonds. Would you like to show this man you're with him? One good way is to buy Savings Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You'll make a good investment. And you'll walk a bit taller.

U.S. Savings Bonds

Bond facts: Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 at maturity in only seven years ... are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen ... have special tax advantages ... can be redeemed whenever the need arises.

Witnesses Hold Record Meeting In WPR

The Palm Beach Kennel Club and the Musicarnival in West Palm Beach were packed to capacity last Sunday as 8,751 persons assembled for the final session of the "Disciple-Making District Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses."

Overcoming the obstacles of losing access to the new auditorium, convention officials worked feverishly for two weeks transposing the dog track and theatre-in-the-round for the convention. The main assembly program was held at the Kennel Club with Spanish-Language sessions at the Musicarnival.

H. A. Cantwell, delivered the principal address, "Rescuing a Great Crowd of Mankind Out of Armageddon."

Jean C. Rainbow, presiding minister of the Belle Glade congregation, said the convention was a "tremendous success" despite the last minute shift in convention sites.

The highlight of the assembly was a baptism service Friday when 91 persons were added to the faith.

Record Number Applications P. B. Jr. College

A last-day flurry of applications Monday at Palm Beach Junior College brought new day-student applications to a record high.

The 2,188 total was 216, or 11 percent, higher than the 1,952 of a year ago.

Those who have filled out their initial application form must now complete assembling of necessary documents by 3:00 p. m. July 31. If they have not previously been tested at PBJC, they are to attend the final testing day August 1, at 8:00 a. m.

No new day students may now be accepted, but those who missed the application deadline may still apply as first-time evening students during the evening registration hours, August 14 to 17, 7 to 9:30 p. m.

The last-day activity, (more than 150 applications in one day), brought a slightly more optimistic tone to enrollment predictions for the Fall Term, but officials were still forecasting only modest gains.

A new system of registration will go into effect for all new day students, and all returning students this fall. It is hoped that the new system will shorten some of the long lines at registration in past years.

Returning students who have not been in college during 1967 have been asked to get in touch with the Registrar's office by August 7 so that they may be assigned counseling dates. Only students who have been counseled on August 10 and 11 or before may take advantage of the new registration system.

Fish In Home County, Cane Pole, Need No License

A cane pole can save a fresh water fisherman $3.00—that is if he is fishing in his home county—the county in which he lives.

If he crosses the county line to find a "better hole" he might as well have a spinning rod—says the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission—because he then needs the standard $3 license.

In a reminder to Florida's fresh water fishermen the commission said the need for a fishing license depends on three things—where you fish—how you fish—and your age.

If you fish in your home county using anything but a cane pole—you need a license.

If you leave your county of residence, or fish in a fish management area anywhere, you need a license.

If you are under the age of 15, or a resident over 65, regardless of where or how you fish—you do not need a license.

The standard $3 license is issued annually. Also sold is a combination hunting and fishing license for $10.50.

NEW FREEDOM SHARES

What are they? Who may buy them?

Americans have put their savings to work for freedom through U.S. Savings Bonds for many years. New Freedom Shares do the same job . . . plus. Read how.

Freedom Shares are U.S. Savings Notes. They pay a higher return than Savings Bonds, 4.74% when held to maturity. And they mature in just four-and-a-half years.

For regular Bond buyers only

These new Freedom Shares—which are not redeemable for the first year—are offered on a one-for-one basis with E Bonds, but only to people who belong to the Payroll Savings Plan where they work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where they bank.

There are four denominations of Freedom Shares, each of which may be paired with a Series E Bond of the same or larger denomination, as a "package." For instance, for $39 total, you can purchase a Savings Bond that matures at $25 and a Freedom Share that matures at $25.

America needs your help

When you buy Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares you do an important job for freedom, backing our men in Vietnam and helping to keep the country economically strong. The need is urgent. What you do counts.

Sign up

Tell your supervisor or the Payroll Department where you work (or any officer where you bank) that you'd like to join a Bond purchase plan. Decide how much you'll save . . . whether you want Freedom Shares as well as Bonds . . . and just sign the authorization card.

You'll be helping your country as you help yourself; the country needs your help.
